During April, global equities rebounded sharply, with MSCI World rising 9.6%, despite little resolution in geopolitical tensions. The Strait of Hormuz remained effectively closed and oil prices were volatile, with Brent crude resuming its upward trend mid-month. Growth outperformed value in equities, as AI rebounded, on the back of strong Q1 earnings, and tech-heavy indices reached all-time highs. Emerging markets outperformed, driven by tech and semiconductor industries, with MSCI EM climbing 14.7%. Within sovereigns, yields declined from their March highs on early optimism around de-escalation, before reversing course toward month-end amid renewed inflation concerns and more hawkish central bank rhetoric.

GLOSSARY

Ex-Ante Value-at-Risk (99%, 20D)

Maximum potential loss that a portfolio may incur over a given time horizon, with a given probability under markets following a normal distribution. Ex: if the VaR(99%; 20d) = 10% over the next 20 days, there is a 99% chance that the portfolio will not lose more than 10% of its value.

Volatility

Term used to describe the extent to which the price of a fund varies within a specific timeframe. It serves as a measure of risk and is determined by calculating the standard deviation, which is the square root of the variance. The variance is obtained by averaging the differences between each value and the mean, which are then squared. Higher volatility indicates higher risk.

PRIIPs SRI

Guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you. The risk indicator assumes you keep the product for its recommended investment horizon. The actual risk can vary significantly if you exit before maturity and you may get back less.

Modified Duration

Risk attached to a given change in the interest rate. For example, for a modified duration of +1 and a 1% increase of the interest rate, the portfolio's value would drop by 1%. Inversely, for a modified duration of -1% and a 1% rate increase, the portfolio's value would increase by 1%.

Proceed-Weighted Yield

1 year performance in unchanged market conditions.

Sharpe Ratio

Excess return divided by the standard deviation of this return. It thus shows the marginal return per unit of risk.

Maximum Drawdown

Maximum loss since inception

Sortino Ratio

Excess return divided by the negative standard deviation of this return.
