

Communication to clients

Paris, London, November 6, 2020

Dear clients,

H₂O AM and Natixis IM have entered into discussions with a view to a progressive and orderly unwind of their partnership. Such evolution is to be considered by relevant regulatory authorities and will require regulatory approvals.

These discussions relate to a potential gradual sale of Natixis IM's stake in H₂O AM. The asset management company indeed intends on giving a new direction to its development as the 10-year lock-up period provided for in its shareholder covenant with Natixis IM has come to an end.

The discussions also include plans for H₂O AM to take over the distribution of its products over a transition period due to last until the end of 2021. This commercial set-up that has been effective and successful with French Independent Financial Advisors since 2019, will be expanded on a global scale by H₂O AM in the best interests of clients and investors.

In due course and in line with the regulatory process, H₂O AM will make a further announcement regarding the impact of these proposals on its business, including its shareholding structure and changes to its governance approach. H₂O AM will pursue its expansion while refocusing on its Global Macro core expertise which has remained undisputed for the past 25 years.
