1. Key Considerations

Summary

This document sets forth the Global Complaints Policy of the H2O AM Group. H2O AM and its affiliates are required to take all reasonable and appropriate steps to manage, handle with skill and respond in a timely manner having regard to Regulatory timeline.

Complaints are considered under four categories, namely:

MiFID - Eligible complainants;

MiFID - Non-eligible complainants;

Non-MiFID - Eligible complainants; and

Non-MiFID - Non-eligible complainants.

This assessment is regardless of when the activity complained about took place.

An “eligible complainant” includes: consumers – defined as any natural person who is acting for purposes which are outside their trade, business, craft or profession; micro enterprises and small charities and trusts (as defined in DISP 2.7 of the FCA Rules).

Each product or service the Entity provides should be identified as to whether it is a MiFID product or service, a non-MiFID product or service or where the product or service combines both MiFID and non-MiFID elements, which elements fall under which definition.

Commitment

The H2O AM Group aims to deliver services to its clients with highest professional standards and in good faith. Additional definitions and relevant information, having regard to the Monetary Authority of Singapore – “MAS”

TYPES OF COMPLAINTS

Complaints are categorised as Minor Complaints and Major Complaints.

Minor Complaints:

Minor Complaints are complaints which do not relate to employees specifically or which can be categorised as minor complaints. They can be classified as follows:-

- Product related – including pricing, marketing materials, disclosures which are relating to basic product features and offering;
- Administration related – including data integrity, accuracy, timeliness of information or correspondences and operational services etc.;
- After sales services or facilities provided by H2O AM.

Major Complaints:

The nature of complaints that fall within this scope can be broadly classified as follows:-

- Acts involving fraud, dishonesty or other offences of a similar nature;
- For example, any wrongdoing by an employee which may result in civil law violation, forgery of signature, misappropriation, unauthorised change or instructions.
- Acts involving inappropriate advice, misrepresentation or inadequate disclosure of information;

- For example, not having presented regulatory required offering documents / product brochures / marketing literature or improper name card issuance or improper recruitment advertisements.
- Failure to satisfy MAS licensing criteria or the Fit and Proper Guidelines;
- Any complaints made to regulatory or official bodies or the press or media;
- Breach of any confidentiality obligations or miss-use of client data;
- Other misconduct involving non-compliance with any regulatory requirement relating to the provision of any financial advisory service (e.g. misrepresentation of facts or information which induces a client to enter into a contract;
- A serious breach of H2O's internal policy or code of conduct which would render an employee or appointed representative liable to demotion, suspension or termination (e.g. requesting a client to sign on blank or incomplete form, not having presented H2O's offering documents or product brochure, not using H2O AM's authorized marketing materials, misuse of client private data, inadequate services or improper name card issuance or recruitment advertisements etc.)

Employees who are the subject of complaints may also be subject to investigation and potential disciplinary action as H2O AM is obliged to investigate and report such misconduct.

Matters Not Treated as Complaints

If a client complains about the poor performance of a fund, collective investment scheme or other investment that he or she has made, this is not treated as a complaint that requires investigation. You should make a record of the client's dissatisfaction and send that to the H2O Head of Marketing so that the matter can be brought to the attention of the relevant fund manager and H2O AM can respond as appropriate.
